Unique sea views opportunity! New villa in Benahavis

The design of La Alqueria 1 villa has been inspired in the new Californian style. The house is projected from the inside out. It shows its initial structure and the materials with which it is built. An axis of transparency composed by the pool, the double height ceilings and the staircase, crosses the house, providing bright and spacious spaces during the day. This villa has been designed using the latest techniques to have an ecological and low maintenance building.
