The traditional Andalusian style courtyard entrance has olive trees, a water feature and stunning mountain views. The ground floor comprises a light, very spacious family sized kitchen/breakfast room, a laundry room and a dining room, which leads through to a spacious lounge. The kitchen has views over the garden and access to a terrace, from where there are magnificent panoramic garden and mountain views. From the lounge, several sets of doors lead out to further terraces for enjoyment of the country ambience. One of the four en suite bedrooms is also located on the ground floor. The expansive master suite on the first floor has a spacious dressing room and a large en suite bathroom, with alongside it another en suite bedroom. The fourth en suite bedroom is also on the first floor but has its own separate stairway entrance and kitchen. The heated saltwater infinity pool is located at the end of the garden, totally merging into the picturesque mountain backdrop.
