This finca, with a refreshingly practical floor-plan, pleasant and astonishingly tasteful, makes an instant impression. With all the rooms on one level, charmingly full of nooks and crannies, yet manageable, spacious, and yet intimate and comfortable, it reveals a standard of renovation rarely seen of such a noble classic.

The hand-tiled floors which account for a considerable part of the rustic appeal, have been lovingly restored and sealed, while the distinguished ceiling beams and inviting fireplaces, which today are more a sign of discriminating decor than a source of heat, characterize, not inconsiderably, the superior country house style. The elegantly, traditionally styled bathrooms serve to further emphasize the ambience of well-being.

The exterior areas benefit from sun-soaked open-terraces and a diversity of Mediterranean plants surrounding the pool. A magnificent tree stock, together with a captivating, all-encompassing view of the landscape out towards the distant Mediterranean sea also play their part in creating a beautiful outdoor area. The location is hidden in rural surroundings, yet just a few minutes to shopping opportunities and restaurants, self-cleaning pool, naya.
